

Season 2 Episode 15

Deported and Imprisoned

Ivan, Safron, and Dirk are on the streets of the Ultraverse at the peak of day where there is a large festival going on and all the roads are blocked off. Safron said, "It is awesome that they have another major street event in the Ultraverse." Ivan, Safron, and Dirk walk through large halls filled with vendors selling all kinds of collectables. Dirk said, "Yeah. It gives us an excuse to visit all these vendors and buy more stuff." Ivan said, "The Ultraverse seems to host so many events. I think this is the fourth or fifth event they had like this this year." Safron said, "It is nice though. It gives us an excuse to hang out again and meet all kinds of bizarre folks from all over the Ultraverse." Safron gets close to Ivan and he gives her an awkward look. A bald Korean guy with a long white mustache runs through swarms and crowds of people in fear. He zips through some crowds and he jumps over some vendors and he dashes off. Ivan, Safron, and Dirk spot him jumping over one of the vendors. Dirk said, "That guy looks familiar." Safron said, "Isn't that that old monk master that introduced you to the Ultraverse?" Ivan said, "Mung Sun Moon. I think that is Mung Sun Moon. He seems to be dashing off from something." Safron said, "Someone must be after him. Let's see where he is going."

Mung runs down an alleyway and he tries to get away from the crowd of people. Ivan, Safron, and Dirk find Mung in the alleyway. Ivan said, "Master Mung?" Mung gives a panicked look to Ivan and he said, "Ivan. I am glad to have found you. They found me and they are after me." Safron said, "Who is after you?" Dirk said, "I remember seeing you when we first arrived in the Ultraverse. You kind of disappeared and was never seen since then. What gives?" Ivan said, "That's a good question." Mung said, "Let me tell you about what happened. I was born in Pyongyang Korea in 1664. I came to the Ultraverse and was recruited by the Ultraverse Monks at a young age where I was given tours of duty across the Ultraverse. I never had a reason to return to my home of Korea since then. Out of curiosity, I thought of visiting my home town again after so long and I was disgusted by what I found. I found that my home must have been invaded at some point because it was ruled by an evil force. They torture their citizens and they execute their own people for stepping a single toe out of line. The worst part during this visit was they found me and they found out I was born in Pyongyang and that I am still technically a citizen of their country even though I have not been to it in a few centuries. I managed to escape through a portal back to the Ultraverse. I did some more research and I found out that my country was split in two and that I happen to be a citizen of the most evil country in my universe. I also found out that they send agents all over the world to find people that escape the country and they imprison them in the most harshest prisons imaginable. Thanks to my unfortunate misadventure, they found out how to get into the Ultraverse and they have been searching its vast reaches for me since. I have spent the last two years on the run from these agents. They found me. I have spotted some of these people at this street festival. You have to help me.” Safron said, “We will help you. You are an honored member of the Ultraverse Monks. We Monks always help each other.” Dirk said, “If any North Korean spies come for us, I am going to bash their skulls.” Dirk punches his fists together.

The North Korean agents enter the alleyway. Ivan and Safron draw out their swords and Dirk draws out his silly string canisters. The agents point at Mung and one of the agents said, “There is the traitor.” Ivan, Safron, and Dirk engage in battle against the agents. Ivan swings his sword at one of them and his sword shatters like glass. Ivan gets smacked in the gut and the agent places Ivan over his shoulder. Dirk tries blasting the silly string like there is no tomorrow at the agents and they plow through the walls of silly string as if it is nothing. They pound Safron and Dirk’s heads into each other. Mung tries escaping but he runs into a small gang of agents at the other end of the alleyway. They gang beat Mung and they place him in electrically charged handcuffs.

The agents carry Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung through the crowd and they blend in. The Monks yell for help and their voices are drowned out by the overstimulating ambiance of the street festival. Safron frantically waves her arms around. She spots her father, Mystika at the event and he sees her getting carried off by the agents. Mystika runs for the agents and he gets pushed and shoved off by people in the crowd of festival goers. Mystika runs and he gets somewhat close to the agents but they open up a black portal and they waltz in and it abruptly closes shut before Mystika can make any kind of physical contact with the portal. Mystika looks at the portal and he said, “Who would want my fine daughter, Safron?”

Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung are placed in a heavily armored prison truck that drives through a forest in North Korea. They sit in a dark cargo section and they have some agents that are armed with assault rifles and they are pointed at the Monks' heads. The truck drives along a dirt road that curves around the trees. Some bald Korean people in red and orange robes hide behind trees and large rocks and they arm themselves with guns as they watch the prison transport drive down the dirt path. The robed Koreans jump out and they gun down the front of the truck causing the engine to explode. They run and open the front door of the transport and they use martial arts moves on the driver and they guards in the front of the transport. The robed Korean that took over the front of the transport gets to the controls and opens up the back of the prison transport. There are armed agents back there and the robed Koreans engage in the kinds of battles seen in anime and they smack down the agents and kick them in the face. The robed Koreans use keys to take the electrified handcuffs off Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung.

Ivan said, “Are you more of these North Korean agents?” One of the robed Koreans said, “We are Buddhist Monks. We live in this forest area of what these fools call, the DPRK. Come with us. We will show you where you can live in safety.”

The Buddhist Monks bring Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung to their monastery that looks somewhat like the monastery of the Ultraverse Monks. One of the Buddhist Monks said, “We are technically citizens of the DPRK but our way of life says otherwise. We do not associate ourselves with the corruption and the bureaucratic politics that rule the country. We are given immunity from the government and military forces. We are Buddhist Monks. Our history is directly tied to that of the DPRK. Have a seat. I will get you something to drink.”

Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung are seated in the monastery where Buddhist Monks are meditating and using assault rifles and semi-automatic weapons as they test them and practice on training dummies. One of these monks gives them some kind of drink.

Safron sips her drink and she asks, "You seemed to take a lot of aggression against those agents. What made you want to rescue us?" The Buddhist Monk said, "We have lived peacefully in this forest but that has changed. The government built an entire prison complex in this forest and they have infringed on our land and the rights we had. They keep stripping our land and they are progressively stealing more and more of our rights from us. We were peaceful people but now we are constantly being subjected and threatened by our oppressors. That is why we have went against them. We have watched them go through portals that seem to open up at seemingly random times and they always come out with all kinds of bizarre technology. We have tried watching these portals open up and we found they seem to open only at our enemy's convenience and they seem to only stay open for very short moments of time. We have not been able to trigger these portals nor have any of us have been to the other side of them. We have managed to steal a lot of these weapons they have brought and learn to use them. We know we are going to be needing them if we are to successfully fight against these agents that are likely to raid our monastery in the future." The Buddhist Monk points to a Monk that is gunning down several targets with a semi-automatic gun with precision accuracy.

Ivan looks aggravated and he said, "These dumb North Koreans pretty much abducted us from the Ultraverse. We have no business here and they put us on their hit list for no real reason. I say we give these North Koreans what they deserve." The Buddhist Monk said, "We used to be peaceful people but there are times where we must resort to combat. There are times where it is necessary to fight fire with fire. We must learn to utilize every weapon we have. We will use our weapons for defense of our monastery and our lives. You indeed do not belong in this country. I will fight and defend all of you and I will do what I can in my power to make sure you make it back to where you came from."

The Buddhist Monk gives a tour to Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung of the grounds they inhabit. It has traditional Korean Buddhist statues with beautiful gold rimmed architecture. The Buddhist Monk said, "Our society has existed for thousands of years. It is our grand mission to serve and protect the societies of the world from the vile forces of corruption." Safron said, "We belong to a similar society of similar monks. We are Ultraverse Monks. Our main goal is to serve and protect the Ultraverse from interuniversal threats. Our philosophies are quite alike." Mung said, "I may have been born in this country but it does not defy who I am or what I am. We are all luminous beings that deserve to prosper beyond the limits that their country offers them. We are not defined by where we belong which is also engraved in the Ultraverse Monk philosophies."

The Buddhist Monk shows the Ultraverse Monks to a weapons shed where it has large heavy duty swords and high-tech blasters. The Ultraverse Monks' eyes go big. The Buddhist Monk said, "All of these weapons are weapons we found from the agents that brought things through the portal. Take what suits you best." The Ultraverse Monks go through the weapons and they pick and choose from the selection.

Ivan sits on a curved ledge on the roof of the monastery at night and he stares off into the night sky. Safron arrives and she sits next to him. Ivan said, "How would we realistically survive in this place?” Safron said, “Well, these Buddhist Monks have managed to do it for thousands of years.” Ivan said, “Yeah, but they weren’t oppressed by agents with high-tech weapons. This is a new threat for them and it doesn’t seem likely that they could maintain themselves much longer.” Safron said, “We will find a way back into the Ultraverse. We know more about portals than these Buddhist Monks do. There must be a way to get them to open for us.” Ivan and Safron spot trees in the background getting knocked down.

A large truck with saw blades on the front of it drives through the forest and it cuts down trees. Some of the trees fall and they crush parts of the monastery. Ivan, Safron, and Mung draw out large heavy-duty swords and they jump into battle. Dirk arms himself with a high-tech blaster. The truck has a door that opens and it deploys large legions of North Korean troops. The Ultraverse Monks and the Buddhist Monks go to battle against the vile invaders. Mung slashes down some of the troops and he jumps around their bladed truck and he cuts it up leaving it destroyed. Mung kicks one of the troops in the head but he hurts his foot and he jumps off and he falls behind a dark pile of debris from cut down trees. Ivan and Safron slash down some of the enemies while Buddhist Monks and Dirk gun some of them down with blasters.

More troops run in and they smack down Dirk and they use an electric chain to wrap around Dirk and zap him. Ivan cuts the chain with his sword. The Buddhist Monks go to fight the agents and they take out large pulse cannons and they blast electrically charged blasts at the Buddhist Monks and they are left vaporized. Ivan and Safron are left surrounded and horribly outnumbered by the agents. Ivan and Safron raise their arms and they surrender to the agents. They collect Ivan and Safron and they add them to Dirk and they carry them off into the woods. The entire monastery complex is left on fire. One of the troops said, “Where is our traitor?” Another goon answers, “We have not found him. He must be in these woods somewhere.” Mung hides in one of the trees and he watches Ivan, Safron, and Dirk get carried off.

Ivan is brought to some kind of technological testing facility where he is strapped to a bed and a large sphere with a needle sticking out of it is brought close to Ivan’s eye. It shines a thin beam of yellow light into Ivan’s eye and small specs of particles are sent from Ivan’s eye and into the large machine the sphere with needle is connected too. Mung looks at this through a small narrow dirty window close to the ceiling. Mung takes out the heavy duty sword and he slashes through the window and he jumps in the facility revealing he is completely decked out with shiny black armor with sharp edges. Mung takes out his blaster and he blasts down the machine and he uses the sword and he slices and dices the sphere into thin slices. Mung rips Ivan out of the bed. Mung said, “What were they doing here?” Ivan said, “I think it has something to do with my yin-yangite physiology. Some other villain we faced off against in the past did the same thing.” Mung said, “You really are a powerful entity. Quite frankly, I am not surprised that so many villains want to harness your yin-yangite physiology.”

Ivan and Mung cut down a large heavy metal door to another prison section and they find Safron in there. She is in a long bulky pink dress with flowers on it. She gives a large creepy smile. She jumps and she twirls on one foot and she jumps and floats to Ivan. Safron said, “Oh, Ivan. We can live here forever. We can only do what our great leader wants from us and nothing more. Why go anywhere else when we already live in the greatest place in the entire Ultraverse?" Ivan grabs onto Safron's arm and he said, "We're escaping this place."

Ivan carries Safron while Mung blasts down another door and it is filled with soldiers and scientists and they stand in front of a large tank in the wall where Dirk is in there and he has eight arms or legs like a spider. He even has a large abdomen and spinner from a spider. The soldiers go and they fight against Ivan and Mung while Safron stands on the sideline sucking on her thumb and remains useless. Mung slashes through the agents and Ivan runs to the controls on the tank. Ivan looks over them and he is about to be smacked by agents. Mung smacks down the agents that were about to attack Ivan. Ivan said, "What the hell is this thing? This place is far more messed up than anything in the Ultraverse. The scariest part is that this is in the universe we are originally from."

More agents pour in and they surround Ivan and Mung. Mung spots Dirk in the tank and Dirk watches down on Ivan and Mung since he is larger than normal. Mung jumps and he jabs his sword into the tank and the glass shatters. Dirk steps out and he uses his arms and feet to fight off the legions of soldiers. The soldiers and scientists are left in a pile. Ivan said, "What happened?" Dirk said, "Some mad scientist wanted to run some biology experiment on me. I always hated biology and it was one of the things that kept me back in high school. I think the mad scientist was interested in the spider DNA that that rich guy gave me when he gave me that illness cure that gave me my enhanced agility." Ivan said, "Now we must bust out of this place and find a way back to the Ultraverse. I am sure there is someone in the Ultraverse that can return you all to normal." Safron giggles and said, "I'm don't think there is anything more to be done to us. We are great just the way we are." Dirk said, "What is wrong with her?" Ivan said, "This place must be some kind of experimentation facility. We must be test subjects for someone. Someone must have done something to Safron's brain causing her to become an air head. We must find the fool running this place and shut him down. This place deserves to get shut down. They may have been doing things like this for some time now."

Ivan carries Safron while he runs with Dirk as a spider and Mung. They come across a large door that reads, "Director's Office." The monks bash down the door and they see a large chair for a giant that is placed in front of test tubes connected to computer terminals. The chair rotates so it faces the Monks and Convind the anthropomorphic killer virus is sitting in the chair. He said, "Hello, Ivan. Long time no see." Ivan said, "Convind? You are the one behind this?" Convind said, "Of course I am. I am the one that rules North Korea now." Mung said, "How did you get a command like this? I thought North Korea was ruled by the Kim Dynasty." Convind said, "You are much too dumb to view the entire truth. I am a living virus. I can evolve and form into new kinds of viruses. I have infected Kim Jong Il and all the servants that live in this country. They think they are worshiping Kim Jong Il but they are really worshiping me. Kim Jong Il has gladly let me use his country as a testing ground for the viral warfare this world and the rest of the Ultraverse will eventually endure. I have already tested some of my new virus variants on you two." Convind points to Safron and Dirk. Convind said, "Safron now has the virus that makes people more obedient and more willing to take on any ludicrous demands they are given. Dirk was given my variant that spreads through small spiders that crawl on your arms and that bite you in your sleep." Dirk raises a fist at Convind and said, "Your plan is flawed. I am still large and I still have these large spider legs that can..." Convind said, "You were supposed to be smaller but you were freed from you entrapment before you were finished. I can finish what they could not.” Convind takes out a shrink ray and he blasts Dirk with it and Dirk shrinks to the size of a small spec of dirt.

Ivan said, “Well, you did not infect me.” Convind said, “On the contrary, I did get what I want from you. Your Yin-yangite physiology would have been immune to the effects of my virus variants. I took a sample of your DNA from your eye and I made a perfectly deadly virus for you.” Convind grabs a tube filled with a yellow liquid and he converts it into a blaster. Convind said, “You are all going to be infected.” Convind uses the liquid and he blasts it at Ivan and Ivan jumps out of the way. Convind sends a beam of the virus at Ivan and Ivan runs with the beam closely following him from behind. Mung looks at the controls to the tubes and he finds a computer terminal. One of the options on the interface is to view the chemical history. Mung goes into the chemical history and he sees what Convind has made. Mung enters commands to create an inverse version of the virus compound.

Ivan is lured into a corner and Convind stands tall and mighty over Ivan. He has the blaster with the virus armed. Convind said, “There is nowhere else for you to run to. Your allies are useless.” Ivan looks left of him and he sees the air head Safron and he turns to the right and he is about to run but he sees Dirk as a small spider on the floor. Ivan is trapped in place and his teeth go large and he chatters. Convind unleashes a large blast of the virus compound on Ivan. Mung jumps in the way and he gets completely drenched in the virus and Ivan is left untouched by the virus. Mung falls in front of Ivan and he hands Ivan a tube filled with a green and blue liquid. Mung said, “Take this. You are all that is left to destroy Convind.” Mung falls flat on the floor and is left useless. Ivan gives Convind a stern look. Ivan jumps to the computer terminal and he jumps off it and he jumps on top of Convind. Ivan attempts to jab the tube into Convind and Convind waves his arms on his head in an attempt to knock Ivan off. Ivan jumps and he almost falls off Convind but he stretches out his arm and he grabs onto Convind’s head. Ivan grips onto it. Several arms are formed on Convind and they all target Ivan and attempt to smack off. Ivan jabs the tube into Convind and its contents are deposited into him. Ivan jumps off Convind and he shrinks and loses his power. Convind said, “You have not won. No one will win.” Convind jumps over Ivan and he explodes into a liquid and he gets all over Ivan infecting him with the virus. Ivan’s skin turns light purple and his body waves with the virus.

North Korean soldiers barge into the facility and they find Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Mung and they are surrounded and brought outside where the entire facility is surrounded with North Korean tanks, turrets, and soldiers. All of the weapons are aimed at the monks. They load their weapons and are about to fire and a large Ultraverse Monk transport comes from above and it fire blasts down at the North Korean forces leaving them destroyed. The transport lands and Mystika comes out and he brings the monks into the transport. Ivan said, “This was... Convind. He was living in North Korea all this time.” Mystika sees that Ivan's skin is light purple. He also sees the air head Safron and the small spider Dirk. Mystika said, “I’m at a loss for words. This Convind really is an inhumane force to be reckoned with. No wonder why he was living in North Korea. It is the only country that would accept him. We will bring you to the quarantine.”

Safron and Dirk are in a quarantine section of the Ultraverse Monk monastery where they are connected to machines that are giving them treatments for what Convind has done. Ivan and Mung are in another section of the quarantine where they are given medicines and immunizations. Mystika watches over the monks getting treated. He looks concerned over Safron as she gets he brain looked at. Mystika said, to one of the Monk doctors working on Safron, "How would we come up with an antibody for something like this? Is it even possible to cure this?" The monk doctor said, "Our forces examined the section where Convind was last seen and was destroyed. Ivan tells us a certain formula was used to destroy Convind. We have got samples from that section and we looked at all the records from the computer terminal that was present there. We also got some of Convind's DNA with the antibody in Ivan's DNA. We can for sure use this data to cure them."

Ivan is with Mung getting treatments and Ivan said, "Convind is more disturbing than ever. If what he said is true that he can evolve and mutate, he could turn into an invincible enemy. We may have found a way to combat his effects now but we may not be able to get rid of his impact in the long run."